

Get Involved

The RNOH is supported by a number of voluntary and charitable groups made up of dedicated and enthusiastic volunteers and staff with diverse backgrounds, experience and skills. They help provide highly valuable services within the hospital and throughout the local community. These groups often seek volunteers, fundraising support or active members, so if you want to 'get involved' follow the links below to find out how you can support the fantastic work they do!

Volunteering

The RNOH believes that volunteers can make a big contribution towards enhancing our services and improving patient experience. Volunteers can bring a variety of skills, experiences, and enthusiasm, and the Trust offers many meaningful and valuable roles.

Patient and Public Involvement

We are currently looking for current or former patients, relatives, or interested members of the public to join our committees and programme boards.

Fundraise for The RNOH Charity

The RNOH Charity raise money so that the RNOH can provide world-class care for patients and support the hospitals pioneering work.

Corporate and Voluntary Groups

The RNOH is pleased to be working with a number of corporate, voluntary, and community groups and organisations

© Royal National Orthopaedic Hospital Trust, Brockley Hill, Stanmore, Middlesex HA7 4LP. Tel: 020 8954 2300